The green flag is international
What project do we do to earn
it:

The wetland of Hólar

Hobs adventure

Hens that eat leftovers and the soil made from food waste (compost) (created at school)

Outdoor school

mine

These photos show old fields of Hólar. They are not used anymore so they are going to be changed back into wetlands, like they used to be.

In this area are 3 tubes in the ground and with them we can check the height of the waterlevel. It will be our annual project

The wetland of Hólar

Here is one of the three tubes.

We use a pipe to measure how high the Water level is.

The mine

In cooperation with landowner we are going to level the soil after the mine. The pupils design the area with the teachers and the goal is to make it an outdoor paradise for everyone that wants to use it.

Our hens and the compost

All leftovers from the school cafeteria goes either way to the hens or in the compost

Pupils are more aware of food waste

Outdoor school

Every group of pupils in school goes to outdoor school.

Class 1.-4. Goes every wednesday 100 min in timetable per week.

There are so many things you can do and learn and have fun all in the same time.

Here in this video are some photos that give you a sneak peak of what we do
