

#YREstayshome

You can still be a Young Reporter for the Environment at home!

Not sure how? Join our weekly online challenges open to all YREs around the world! It's more important than ever to stay positive and share your environmental messages to help influence the world.

Take part in the weekly
YRE Challenges

You will have the chance to investigate issues from home, develop solutions that will help protect our planet, and share your best practices with others!

Here are some of the challenges

#YREstayshome
